Blasphemy Case Against Turkish Christians Dismissed ISTANBUL, May 30 (Compass Direct News) – Three Turks are in jail over charges of insulting Turkishness for translating the Bible into Turkish. A court on April 16 acquitted the Christians, Mustafa Kütahyalı, Huseyin Yel, and the Baptist center in the central Anatolian city of Midyat, of all charges. Their offense was to translate the New Testament into Turkish and to publish a book with the same title and subtitle as the Greek version, the Gospel of Luke, that had been distributed by Baptists around Turkey for decades. In the past, Christian converts, both Turks and non-Turkish nationals, had no problem distributing the book, which was approved by the Turkish Council of Churches, Anatolia News Agency reported. But from the late 1990s, Turkey's government, seeking to assimilate increasingly large numbers of Muslim refugees from 81e310abfb
