Advanced Battle Racing is a game made from the inside out. Our desire to realize the full potential of VR drove the development of this game. The tracks are hand-drawn, and the environments all built with Hyperkinetic VR Rendering. We've written a VR-first engine that allows us to make the most of the amazing possibilities of VR and bring a game that we're passionate about to the market. Why play? It's a game that challenges you mentally and physically. You'll often find yourself yelling and laughing while playing. It's also a game that will test your nerve and your ability to adapt to change, staying alive and completing your mission. ----- Hyperkinetic VR
