- Episode 6 (Episode #6 of 10) Category: Movie Season 5 of the TV show has been airing. No sign of the alphabets or the quarrots until the credits played. Ms. Blinky tries to sneak past on the road on her bike. She is grabbed by the Pekos and they say that the gang has a new chief. The gang announces their new chief, Nakil. They say that Nakil is a very good writer and "co-owner" of the newspapers." "May I assume Nakil is a clown?" said Kate. "Who wrote the silly jokes for the shows between episodes?" said Dave. "What is the show title?" asked Rosanne. "The TV show should be called 'Jailbirds,'" said Nicky. "But the radio show is called 'Animals,' where Neeta and Rita sing, well, animals with the rest of the Teeter newscasters. I thought it was Pornridge?" said Dave. "If you haven't already figured out that this is not a movie, you're too old to watch the series. This is the top secret TV show last transcribed before Mr. Webber's disappearance. This is a TV "trivia" episode. Do you want to hear a clue?" asked Mr. Blinky. "It's since been replaced with more actors and a few changes, but back then, the police chief was Nakil." "I guess this means that Mr. Nakil won't be speaking to us." said George. "Here's a clue: Among the characters is," said Mr. Blinky. "Moment? Don't ruin this for us. We're guessing this is SPONTANEOUS." "Wrong," said Mr. Blinky. "Momentous means big. My friends are generally in big moments," said Dave. Mr. Blinky thanked them for trying. "If you hadn't figured out that it was a TV show, we won't be listening to all this silly information about the actors and everything else." said Rosanne. "You should watch this and see what you think of it," said Mr. Blinky. He suggested they listen to the rest of the show and see what happens. "When you get to the Theatrical, you have to go to the Theatrical to listen to the rest of the show. If you don't hear the rest of the show, you have to think about everything you watched
